

Rare opportunity for a
Private Guided Tour of Dorney Court

10.30 am
Tuesday 19th September 2023

Self-drive

Dorney Court is an architecturally important Grade 1 listed Tudor building that has been the home of the Palmer family for hundreds of years...not to be confused with Dorney Wood the country residence of the Chancellor of the Exchequer which is elsewhere on the estate.

The house has always been the Manor House of Dorney Village near Windsor and is full of artistic gems and quirky features - which you might recognise from the odd movie or TV show! <https://dorneycourt.co.uk/about/>

Our visit will be self-drive (we will endeavour to arrange lifts/car-share if necessary).

You should have good mobility to join this visit as there is quite a bit of walking from the car park to the house and the house has narrow passageways and uneven steps.

We will be greeted by Anna Palmer the current lady of the house. On arrival, she will provide us with tea or coffee and her own homemade cakes and biscuits in the very impressive main hall.

We will then divide into groups of no more than 15 for guided tours of the house and adjacent Dorney church. The tour will take around 2 hrs and at the end Anna will offer us her homemade sloe gin!

The cost will be £25 pp. Please note that this was shown as £15pp in error on the earlier flyer and anyone who has already booked a place will be contacted directly. Non-Art Society guests will be welcome to join a waiting list.

The Crocus Garden Centre is close by on the site (where we will park) and we will have the opportunity of an optional group sandwich or salad lunch in the cafe after the tour probably at a cost of £17 - £20 pp

We are advertising and selling this trip now so that you can pop it in your diaries ahead of the summer break...although some of the operational details, including the final lunch cost, still have to be finalised, so please bear with us.

If you are interested in booking a place or have any questions, please contact Jo Dudley via tasww.bookings@gmail.com

As there are 2 separate elements to this visit, please indicate whether you wish to book lunch as well as the visit. You will receive confirmation and final details closer to the event.
